Sedgwick recertified as Employer of Choice®

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 15, 2017 – Sedgwick, the leading global provider of technology-enabled claims and productivity management solutions, has been recertified as an Employer of Choice®, a designation granted to select employers that achieve organizational objectives through excellence in leadership, culture and practices that attract, optimize, and retain top talent.

Sedgwick first earned the prestigious credential in 2004 and was recently recertified based on the strong results of a 2016 employee survey and an independent assessment by the Employer of Choice advisory board.

“Taking care of people is at the heart of everything we do, both internally and externally,” said Terri Browne, Sedgwick’s chief people officer. “Our colleagues perform vital work every day, assisting consumers and clients in the aftermath of a workplace injury, birth of a child, auto accident or property damage. Fostering an organizational culture in which ‘caring counts’ enables our colleagues to deliver excellent customer service and grow as individuals.”

“Sedgwick has been one of our most consistent Employer of Choice award winners,” said Joyce Gioia, CEO of Employer of Choice International, Inc. “They achieve consistency despite their rapid growth by aligning their internal and external attitudes of caring for colleagues and clients alike. Kudos to Sedgwick!”

Sedgwick is the only risk and insurance services organization to be designated an Employer of Choice.
